Gentlemen,

Here is your tool that you ordered. I should be getting notification of shipping in the next day or so, but please let me know if you need anything else.

Best Regards,

TI eStore Order Confirmation

Texas Instruments

Dear Jacob Borgeson:

Thank you for shopping at The Texas Instruments eStore. We have received your order and will process it as soon as possible.

You will receive an e-mail within 24 hours that includes the estimated shipping date for in stock items, or a backorder date for products not currently available. Once these items are packed and ready to be shipped from our warehouse, you will receive a shipping notification with the carrier name and tracking number of your item(s). Your credit card will not be charged until we ship the item(s) to you. If you would like a real time status of your order, please visit your personal My Account Page.

For downloaded software, you will receive an e-mail within 24-48 business hours that includes the availability date for your software purchase. Once the software is ready to be download, you will receive a second email with a link and your access code. Your credit card will not be charged until you are granted access.

Thank you for shopping at the TI E-store.

Regards,
TI E-store
